Building trust and fostering engagement among chapter members is crucial for strong leadership.

All questions, concerns, comments, reports, and notifications should be submitted to ISACA Support using the "Chapter" tab.

Welcome!

Congratulations, and welcome to your position with your ISACA chapter! Your members have expressed their confidence and trust in you to lead their chapter in achieving its purpose, goals, and objectives. ISACA recognizes your contributions and places its trust in you to ably represent the image and values of its global brand.

This guidebook is designed to assist you in understanding your unique contributions to the success of your chapter. It outlines the role you have accepted, its responsibilities and opportunities, and provides you with links to additional resources.

Building a new chapter? This guide generally assumes you are taking over an existing officer position in an existing chapter. If you are building a new chapter, ignore sections that reference meeting with a predecessor. Instead, feel free to contact the Chapter Experience team via ISACA Support to request an introduction to officers of a similarly sized chapter, who can share their experiences and methods. Although not all information shared here will be applicable in the first year(s) of a new chapter, this guide still will be valuable.

Side Note: ISACA's main, international office/headquarters is referred to as "ISACA Global."

Chapter 360

What is Chapter 360?
Chapter 360 is a resource for you, a volunteer chapter leader, that simplifies the role of sustaining the organization and equips you with tools to maximize the potential of the chapter. Chapter 360 provides guidance to consistently deliver ISACA's array of offerings based on local needs and using preferred practices.

Chapter 360 was inspired by the format of CMMI V 3.0® and COBIT®, which provide practices that can be tailored to achieve success of the chapter from every angle.

Why it matters:

- This model will provide a 360° view of the chapter, uncover any blind spots, and help the chapter achieve relevance, value, scalability, and trustworthiness.
- For chapters seeking growth, developing strategies in focus areas most relevant to a chapter can increase its potential, expand its capabilities, ensure scalability, amplify its local strategy, and accelerate performance for its established goals.
- By using the Chapter 360 self-assessment tool, ISACA Global can ensure you have the most important and relevant resources, based on your chapter's unique needs and challenges.

Chapter 360 Focus Areas:

Principles for Success

As a chapter leader, you and your chapter board/leaders will decide your chapter's specific needs and priorities. You might find the following set of principles for success helpful as you consider your overarching role:

- Plan for specific outcomes. Aim for specific and measurable goals.
- Lead by example. Represent your chapter and office with passion, enthusiasm, and dedication. This attitude will carry through to your chapter board and chapter members.
- Promote ethics and integrity among all chapter board and chapter members. Recall ISACA's Code of Professional Ethics as a guide.
- Engage with your chapter board members regularly. Maintain regular contact with them and other volunteers to motivate everyone in fulfilling their respective responsibilities.
- Dedicate sufficient time to your ISACA role. Set reasonable expectations and dedicate sufficient time for fulfilling local, regional, and global ISACA responsibilities.
- Communicate with ISACA Global for support and assistance.
- Remain up to date with ISACA Global's programs and initiatives. To excel, chapter leaders need a deep understanding of the organization's mission and values. Keep your chapter's activities aligned with ISACA's global efforts and offerings.

Understand the Time Commitment

Every chapter leader is a volunteer and has limitations on their time. This guidebook is designed to assist you in effectively and efficiently fulfilling your responsibilities.

In accepting this role, you might find the time commitment is much greater than your previous chapter involvement. Some chapter leaders have estimated about 20 hours per month is spent on activities as a chapter leader.

Take action: Engage with and rely on your fellow chapter board members/leaders to help manage your time and accomplish your chapter goals. Ultimately, you bear the responsibility of representing the chapter and ensuring all tasks are successfully completed.

Learn from your Predecessor

One of your first priorities in this role is to learn as much as possible from the person who most recently held your position. This individual usually has a good understanding of the responsibilities, unique characteristics of your chapter, your specific position, and the needs of your members.

Take action:

- Make a one-on-one handover meeting an immediate priority and review the chapter's succession plan as soon as possible.
- Talk with those from other chapters who hold/have held this role for useful insights for your journey ahead.
- If the person who most recently held this position is unavailable, contact another chapter officer in the region via the Chapter Leader Exchange or reach out to ISACA's Chapter Experience team via ISACA Support to request a mentor from another chapter. Keep in mind that each chapter has unique needs.)

Chapter Affiliation Agreement and Addendum

In 2018, ISACA Global issued a Chapter Affiliation Agreement (CAA) between itself and each individual ISACA chapter. In 2019, an addendum (or updated CAA) was issued.

Why it matters:

- The agreement and addendum outline the responsibilities of the chapter on how to appropriately represent ISACA's brand and maintain its reputation.
- The CAA required a one-time signature, typically by the chapter president, and remains effective until terminated by the chapter or ISACA.
- The signed document should be stored in your chapter leader library within the Engage platform.
- The CAA and addendum (if applicable) should be reviewed at least once annually to ensure the chapter is complying with the agreement.

Reporting Responsibilities

For compliance, every chapter is required to annually enter their events on the Engage platform, complete an online checklist, and submit an audit or financial verification letter.

Chapter Events

The chapter is responsible for entering all their chapter events (except chapter board meetings; those do not need to be entered) within the Engage platform. Even if a chapter chooses NOT to host their site with ISACA, all chapter events must still be entered therein.

Learn more! Engage offers many additional valuable tools for chapter communications and activities.

Independent Audit or Financial Verification Letter

The chapter must submit evidence of an audit or financial verification letter annually, within 30 days of the chapter's annual general meeting (AGM).

- The primary purpose is checks-and-balances-related: to provide independent support that the chapter's finances were reviewed and are in order.
- More information on the chapter compliance requirements can be found on the Compliance page of the Chapter Leader Portal.

The details:

- The most recent audit or financial verification letter is required, which, in some cases, might be up to 12 months old. For example, if a chapter has its AGM in June, but the most recent audit or financial verification was conducted the previous August, that August-dated letter would be acceptable.
- The chapter president must coordinate the assignment, completion, review, and submission of the letter to the Chapter Experience team via ISACA Support.
- The verification of the chapter's financials must be completed by a qualified, independent financial expert who is not a chapter member.
- Unless otherwise noted in the chapter's bylaws, the reviewer does not need to be a member of ISACA, nor a certified public accountant.

Chapter Bylaws

Chapter bylaws are the rules of the chapter that relate principally to itself as an organization. Each chapter must have bylaws that are approved by ISACA Global, the chapter board, and the chapter membership.

- Bylaws define the primary characteristics of the chapter and cannot be changed without previous notice given to all chapter members. A member vote is also required to make any changes to the chapter's bylaws.
- The chapter must ensure the compliance of the bylaws with ISACA Global's bylaws and any applicable country or state requirements.
- Bylaws information can be found in the Chapter Leader Portal in the Policies section.
- The Chapter Bylaws Template should be used to submit the chapter's bylaws in English to the Chapter Experience team via ISACA Support.
- The rules stated in the bylaws cannot be suspended and must be followed at all times.

First steps:
- The chapter board must approve all suggested bylaw changes and forward them to the Chapter Experience team via ISACA Support with changes indicated.
- ISACA Global must give written approval to all bylaw changes before they are submitted for a vote by chapter membership.

Next step—member approval:
- Any amendments to the chapter bylaws must be provided to the entire chapter membership in writing at a meeting, mailed, or emailed at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting at which it will be considered.
- Bylaw amendments must be approved at a chapter meeting.
- The chapter must inform the Chapter Experience team via ISACA Support that the bylaw amendments have been approved by members and provide a copy (in English) of the approved version of the bylaws.

Going forward:
- Upon approval, the bylaws must be accessible by all chapter members. Posting them in the Chapter Library on the chapter's website is a viable option.
- The chapter board should review the bylaws annually to ensure they are current and compliant.
- If your chapter does not have a copy of its most recent bylaws, contact the Chapter Experience team via ISACA Support.

Regional and Global Cooperation

As a chapter leader, you represent the interests of your chapter at a local, regional, and global level. The primary ways you will interact with ISACA's regional and global leaders and staff include (but are not limited to):
- Contacting the Chapter Experience team via ISACA Support for assistance.
- Chapter ONE: Important biweekly emails sent to ALL chapter leaders from the Chapter Experience team with news, information, and updates. Be sure to read Chapter ONE!
- Chapter Leader meetings and gatherings—ISACA's Global Leadership Summit (GLS) is an annual meeting for chapter leaders. In addition, you may be invited to attend virtual and/or in-person meetings/sessions throughout the year.
- Chapter Leader Exchange (also accessible from the home page of the Chapter Leader Portal): All current ISACA chapter leaders are automatically added to this online community. Share ideas and best practices, ask questions, and learn how other chapters are serving members. See announcements from ISACA Global and participate in conversations.

Global Initiatives

As a chapter member, it is important to have a good understanding of ISACA's global initiatives and be able to effectively communicate them to your fellow members.

- The Chapter Leader Portal offers helpful information about ISACA's programs and initiatives. .
- Familiarize yourself with regional and global initiatives and leverage them strategically to achieve your chapter's objectives.

Understand Your Chapter

An effective chapter leader understands the chapter they are serving: the people, the rules, and the unique characteristics of a chapter in your part of the world.

Know the Members of Your Chapter

Your chapter membership roster (i.e., list) is available for download at all times via the Chapter Leader Portal Reports page. Access to the roster is restricted to the chapter president, secretary, membership director, and administrator. All chapter leaders who access the reports page must agree to the privacy notice.

- The roster lists all members of your chapter.
- The report can be exported into Excel, which allows you to import the data into the software or online communication tool of your choice.
- In addition to the roster, there are several other reports available on this page. Take the time to familiarize yourself with the information available to you.

Take action: Analyze the membership roster to understand the demographics of the membership, which should include:

- The location of the members—If available, use zip codes to plot or chart the locations of the members. This could determine the ideal location for chapter activities.
- Area of employment, such as audit, risk, information security, governance—This knowledge is helpful for determining meeting topics.
- Companies and organizations represented—This would help identify companies supporting the chapter, potential speakers, and potential volunteers, as well as provide an understanding of the industries represented.

Membership Statistics:

- The membership statistics for all chapters are updated monthly and are available for download by all chapter leaders at this link. The folder contains all statistics for the year and is continually updated.
- During the renewal season (October to March), the statistics will include the current renewal rates for each chapter. You can use these membership statistics to closely track and analyze the growth of your chapter on a monthly and yearly basis.

Know Your Chapter's Territory and Region

The chapter territory is determined by a 50-mile/80-kilometer radius from a designated city. In situations where the radius covers the entire country, the chapter may be named after the country, rather than a city (e.g., Malta Chapter).

ISACA members:

- ISACA members living or working within a defined chapter territory, as indicated by their mailing address in their ISACA profile, are assigned to the local chapter and must pay applicable chapter dues.

- A member who lives or works outside any local chapter territory is noted by ISACA as a "Member at Large" and is not required to belong to a chapter, nor pay applicable chapter dues. However, they may voluntarily choose to join any chapter, pay its chapter dues, and participate in that chapter's activities.
- ISACA's database cannot accommodate affiliation with more than one chapter. If a person is interested in participating in more than one chapter, they will need to belong to one and request to be added to the mailing list of the other.

Understand the Chapter's Geographical Challenges

Geographical borders, language barriers, cultural variances, and other challenges may exist for some chapters.

- Chapter leaders should understand the challenges and develop a plan to address the challenges, ensuring that all members in the chapter's territory are represented and served to the best of the chapter's ability.
- If challenges are not addressed, the chapter will likely experience difficulties recruiting new members and volunteers, as well as retaining existing members.

Take action: If geographical challenges exist, the chapter might consider offering virtual meetings. If language and cultural variances exist, the chapter leadership should try to closely reflect and accommodate the variances as much as possible.

Chapter Strategy

Each year, the chapter board should create an annual chapter strategy.

- Refer to Chapter 360 focus areas as a guide:

- Review the chapter bylaws, the Chapter Affiliation Agreement, and any applicable addendum.
- Understand the needs of local members and identify areas for improvement.
- Fine-tune and/or create goals and objectives to best serve members.

For example, one strategy for maintaining membership could be to choose interesting and current topics and invite excellent presenters for monthly events and CPE/educational opportunities. Another strategy could focus on membership growth by providing meetings in different locations to reach out to underserved areas.

Understand the Chapter's Past Initiatives

Understanding the chapter's past initiatives will help determine which initiatives worked and which ones were less successful. In addition, it will help the chapter forward successful initiatives where significant effort and resources already have been invested.

Goals and Objectives

Generally, the annual strategy should outline the goals and objectives for:

- Membership (growth and retention)
- Credentialing (training, review courses)
- Continuing Education (educational events)
- Networking (meetings, educational and social events)

Board Member and Volunteer Involvement

The achievement of the chapter strategy will be heavily dependent on the willingness of the chapter board members to agree on the chapter's goals and objectives.

- Early involvement of all chapter board members in the development of the strategy will provide the greatest opportunity for gaining commitment.
- Each chapter board member should consider how their area of responsibility can contribute to the achievement of the chapter's goals and objectives.

Chapter Finances

Chapters are not-for-profit and do not exist to amass capital. Each chapter operates as an independent entity of ISACA. It is the chapter leaders' responsibility to ensure proper controls are in place to safeguard the chapter's finances from mismanagement and theft.

- The chapter bylaws govern the rules of proper financial management, and budgets are effective to provide structure around finances.
- The chapter president and treasurer should collaborate on all financial actions and matters.
- Additional information on chapter finances is available in the Administration area of the Chapter Leader Portal.

Take action:

- The financial condition should be reviewed at each chapter board meeting.
- Capital should be used to operate the chapter, including monthly meetings and educational events.
- Funds should be expended for the benefit of the members and chapter operations and must not be used for personal gain or expenses.
- Inconsistencies that are indicative of fraud must be immediately reported to ISACA and local authorities.

Chapter dues: Chapter dues are updated annually in August. The Chapter Experience team will contact ISACA chapters in June/July each year to request and process changes to the following year's dues. If the chapter has any questions or concerns about chapter dues, they should communicate with the Chapter Experience team via ISACA Support.

Taxes—United States Chapters:

- The ISACA US Chapter Group Exempt Organization Return (Form 990) is filed annually by ISACA on behalf of all ISACA US Chapters.
  1. An initial email is sent in late January to the chapter president and treasurer, with a request to provide some preliminary information.
  2. Based on this information, ISACA's Tax Department follows up with a second email with either a long or short version of the tax chapter packet.
  3. The chapter can expect to receive the chapter tax packet in late February or early March, with an expectation to be completed and returned to the ISACA Tax Department by late April to early May.
- Contact tax@isaca.org with any questions.

The Chapter Board of Directors

In a chapter, there are two entities that meet and can make decisions on behalf of the entire chapter: the chapter members and the chapter board of directors.

- Chapter members can collectively make decisions at a chapter membership meeting, as determined in the chapter bylaws.

- The chapter board of directors is an elected group of chapter officers who govern the chapter. Its composition and authority should be defined within the chapter's bylaws.
- While some variation may exist between chapters, the officers of the chapter typically include a chapter president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, an immediate past president, and a flexible number of directors.
- The number of chapter directors is determined by each chapter, according to its size and specific needs.
- Chapter Leader Guidebooks for specific roles and additional role descriptions can be found on the Training and Roles page of the Chapter Leader Portal.

Board Commitment

All chapter board members are volunteers and are not paid for their services. All volunteers are expected to fulfill their duties for their respective positions. Involvement and participation include attendance at chapter events and chapter board meetings.

Each chapter volunteer should be required by the chapter to:

- Agree to comply with the chapter's non-compete, willingness-to-serve, Conflict of Interest Policy, and/or other related agreements.
- Disclose potential and actual conflicts of interest.
- Samples of chapter volunteer forms can be found on the Chapter Leader Training and Roles page of the Chapter Leader Portal.

Take action: The Conflict of Interest and Willingness to Serve agreements should be signed by each volunteer when they enter their role.

- New forms should be signed if anything changes from the original time of signing (e.g., the volunteer takes a position with a new company, which creates a conflict of interest).
- These signed forms should be retained by the chapter secretary as custodian and do not need to be submitted to ISACA.

Chapter Leader Positions and Committees

Regardless of the size of the chapter or chapter board, a common set of positions or committees is usually relevant for the chapter. The chapter directors assist the chapter by accepting one (or more) position(s) of responsibility, which many times includes chairing a standing committee for the chapter.

Core Positions

The following three positions are usually found in a chapter:

- Certification
- Education
- Membership

Other Possible Positions

The chapter determines other positions/committees, as necessary. Some might be:

- Academic Relations
- Advocacy
- Audit
- Communications
- Cybersecurity
- Marketing
- Newsletter/Content
- Research
- SheLeadsTech
- Webmaster

Additional or alternative positions could be developed by the chapter president, with chapter board approval, and may need to be noted in the chapter's bylaws.

Nomination Process

Ideally, chapters should have a Nominating Committee responsible for seeking out and nominating chapter leaders.

- The chapter bylaws should dictate the committee's formation, duties, and responsibilities.
- The chapter president should ensure the chapter complies with the bylaws during the nomination process.
- Please see the Appendix in this guide for additional elections guidance.

The process:

1. Typically, the Nominating Committee solicits candidates for open officer positions by email, postal mail, via the chapter website, in-person announcements at educational sessions or a combination thereof.
2. The committee then interviews the nominees and determines the candidates for election at the chapter's annual general meeting (AGM).
3. The list of nominated candidates should be made available to chapter members before the AGM.
4. At the AGM, the chair of the meeting will ask for nominations from the floor for additional candidates for any position (if applicable).
5. Each candidate shall have completed/signed a Willingness to Serve agreement and Conflict of Interest form.
6. After this is completed, the chair will conduct the election of officers.

Committees

Temporary or permanent committees can be formed and noted in the chapter bylaws or through the authority of the chapter board.

- Committees can either assist with a particular position or for a specific event or purpose.
- Committees are excellent opportunities to draw volunteers from the chapter membership and can lead to interest in volunteering for chapter board positions.

Updating the Chapter Leader/Board Roster

Chapters cannot make changes to the chapter leader roster that renders in the Chapter Leader Portal. When changes need to be made to your chapter leader roster (i.e., new board members are elected and appointed):

- The chapter president must send the name, ISACA ID, and chapter role to ISACA Support.
- Changes will be made as quickly as possible, and the roster will automatically update in the Chapter Leader Portal.

Segregation of Duties (SoD)

Segregation of duties (SoD) is critical for preventing a single person from having complete control of a process or an asset. SoD:

- Reduces the chapter's risks and is paramount for an effective risk-management strategy.
- Can be achieved by assigning different duties to different chapter leaders, such as the chapter treasurer being authorized by the chapter president to make payments.

A chapter with a six-member board cannot avoid having someone doing more than one of the functions, but the intent is no one person handles a whole process from start to finish.

A chapter should, at a minimum, analyze their cash processes and institute some basic controls around key functions. Examples include the following, which can be adjusted to meet the size/risks/needs of your chapter and board:

Recording Duties
- Bank reconciliations—Treasurer
- Records disbursements—Treasurer
- Writes checks—Treasurer (Authorized check-signers are never in custody of the checkbook.)
- Record cash receipts—Varies, but it could be the secretary who submits a cash receipts reconciliation report to the treasurer after an event where payments are received.

Custody Duties
- Handling Cash Receipts—Typically assigned to the chapter leader operating an event; but the key is it should NOT be the treasurer.
- Bank Deposits—Secretary

Authorization or Approval Duties
- Approves Payments / Signs Checks—President or vice president (this can sometimes be divided into two duties). For instance, the chapter president could approve disbursement and the vice president could be the signer of checks. This process could switch to avoid the president approving his/her own expenses.
- The secretary should always be copied, so there is a record.

Verification of the Control Duties
- Periodic Audits/Review of the Disbursement Controls—Chapter auditor or the secretary if he/she is not performing the bank deposits.
- These controls also apply to any electronic transfers of monies. Each chapter needs to decide who will accomplish these duties.

Meetings

Chapter Board Meetings

As defined by your chapter bylaws, the chapter must hold multiple chapter board meetings during the year (at least four per year). The chapter president will chair these meetings and is responsible for:
- Complying with the chapter bylaws for meetings
- Declaring and adjudicating motions
- Setting the time for the next meeting

Additional insights and ideas can be gained from reference to Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised, 11th Edition. This manual of parliamentary procedures was developed in the United States but is generally applicable to any chapter board meeting.

Regular or Special Membership Meetings

The chapter must hold membership meetings that are authorized per the chapter bylaws. The chapter president will chair these meetings and have the same responsibilities as defined above under the heading Chapter Board Meetings.

Annual General Meeting (AGM)

As the name suggests, this annual meeting of all chapter members is conducted with a similar structure and format as regular chapter meetings, except it usually has the following focus:

- Election of chapter officers, in accordance with the chapter bylaws, and
- A report of the current state of the chapter, including goals, committees/positions, activities, and finances.

Immediately Following the AGM: The chapter president should promptly inform the Chapter Experience team via ISACA Support of the newly elected and appointed chapter board members and volunteers. This should be done immediately after the AGM, or as soon as the new positions go into effect.

Diversity and Inclusion

Chapter leaders have the responsibility to ensure the chapter is inclusive and does not exclude anyone from opportunities for membership, leadership, and/or other volunteer roles. All ISACA members should have equal access to chapter activities.

Accessibility for Deaf/Hard of Hearing (HOH)—When offering events, it is important to consider the needs of deaf/HOH attendees. If/when needed, and in accordance with local regulations (e.g., www.ada.gov in the US), please provide the necessary tools and resources (e.g., sign language, transcription) for both live and virtual events. If neither accommodation is possible for an event, please disclose such during the registration process.

Chapter Leader Portal

The Chapter Leader Portal is your comprehensive online source for almost all chapter leader resources, information, tools, reports, and mechanisms related to chapter operations.

- It is intended to assist chapter leaders in successfully serving members and promoting and expanding ISACA at the local level.
- Access to this portal is granted based on your agreement that the content and information provided will be used solely for ISACA chapter-related activities and administration.

Reports

Various reports are available on the Reports page of the Chapter Leader Portal:

- Exam reports include newly certified, member/non-member passers, registrants, and top scorers in your chapter.
- Membership reports include the member roster, new members, and members transferred in/out.
  The "Membership Termination Report" is available following the annual membership purge until 30 June each year and lists members in your chapter whose membership expired. The list can be useful for notifying and encouraging individuals to renew. It will not be provided once removed from the Chapter Leader Portal, even upon request; so, be sure to download the list before 30 June!
- Payment reports include the payment status, remittance detail, and chapter account statements.

See who has access to specific reports in the Appendix of this guidebook.
Individuals who have access to these reports should provide information respective of their areas as part of regular reporting to the chapter board.

Your Chapter's Website

ISACA offers free website hosting to all chapters as microsites of the global Engage portal.

- Chapters are not required to use their Engage chapter website, but it offers myriad tools and services to help communicate your chapter's great work.
- ISACA Global strongly recommends chapters take advantage of this free tool.
- Learn about the beneficial capabilities and tools found in Engage, including:
  - Chapter Library – Use this central location to upload presentations, documents, articles, or other important information relevant to chapter members. All members of your chapter have access.
  - Chapter Leader Community: This secure discussion board and library is accessible only to current leaders in your chapter. This community allows you to facilitate conversations, share files, archive documents, and manage your chapter business.

Important note: Chapters that choose not to utilize their Engage website still must enter their events into Event Manager on Engage for chapter compliance.

How to access: Log in to access your chapter site at https://engage.isaca.org/home >> Communities >> My Communities.

Who can administer your chapter website and how?

- Administrative access is permitted to up to three individuals of the chapter's choosing and are referred to as "Engage site administrators" (or "chapter admins").
- Engage site administrators can edit the website content, add/manage events, and organize the chapter library.
- The chapter president should email chaptersiteadmins@isaca.org with the names and email addresses of Engage site administrators, who will be granted privileges and access to the required training.
- Engage site admins can access the Site Admin Community here. Each administrator should use their personal ISACA.org login. All training materials for editing the site and event manager can be found in the Site Admin Community Library.

Support: If you have questions about your chapter website or community tools, contact chaptersiteadmins@isaca.org.

Marketing

Chapter Logo Usage

ISACA created chapter logos for all chapters.

- Your current chapter logo must be displayed on your chapter website and should be used in any instance when your chapter is marketing or sponsoring an event.
- Chapters are not authorized to use the ISACA Global logo unless specific written permission has been granted by ISACA Global.
- Additional information can be found in the Chapter Leader Portal.

Marketing Storefront

The ISACA Marketing Storefront,accessible from the Chapter Leader Portal home page, is a central location where chapters can access and order ISACA marketing materials to help promote ISACA.

- The Storefront includes many free, downloadable materials and items for purchase.

- Chapters can purchase items using a credit card if MAP funds (explained below) have been depleted.

Marketing Assistance Program (MAP)

Each year, ISACA offers an open enrollment for chapters to opt-in to the MAP, which provides funds from ISACA to aid in the promotion of ISACA and the chapter.

- In early December, an email is sent to the chapter president, vice president, marketing representative, and administrator with the opportunity to opt-in to participate in this program simply by completing the Opt-In Form by the deadline indicated.
- In January, participating chapters are notified of available funds (the amount is dependent on the number of chapters participating).
- MAP funds expire 30 November each year; so, be sure to use funds by that date.

Where to access funds: When opted-in, your available MAP funds are shown in the top right corner of the Marketing Storefront (accessible from the Chapter Leader Portal home page).

- Purchase items in the storefront using your MAP funds.
- Or submit for reimbursement (via the Reimbursement form on the Storefront page) qualifying expenses for marketing materials your chapter has purchased on its own.

Who has access: The chapter president, marketing coordinator, and individuals assigned as MAP contacts have access to use your chapter's MAP funds. If someone else needs access to the funds, the chapter president should inform the Chapter Experience team via ISACA Support.

Credentials Training

ISACA chapters have several options to assist members with obtaining credentials (learn about options here), including participating in ISACA's Accredited Training Program (ATP).

Accredited Training Program (ATP)

The Accredited Training Program (ATP) is governed through policies referenced in the Chapter Affiliation Agreement. The ATP refers to training for ISACA credentials (i.e., certifications and certificates), and mandates:

- ISACA exam review courses must be delivered by an ISACA Accredited Trainer.
- Chapters must use the authorized teaching materials that are provided directly to the accredited trainer(s).

Dig deeper: Learn about the ATP in the Chapter Leader Portal.

CPE Upload Tool

All chapter presidents, vice presidents with reporting capabilities, secretaries, education chairs, program chairs, and chapter administrators can submit continuing professional education (CPE) hours/credits earned by ISACA certification holders who attend chapter events.

Why it matters:
By using the CPE Upload Tool in the Chapter Leader Portal, the hours are submitted directly to the certification holders' accounts. The member is still required to "claim" those hours online when they report their annual CPE hours.

Important note: Please do not use the CPE Upload Tool to upload the 20 CPE hours awarded annually to chapter leaders for active participation on the chapter board or to enter personal CPE hours. ISACA chapter leaders should enter these hours on their own through their MyISACA profile on isaca.org.

Support

You are never alone in your role. Your chapter board, volunteers, and ISACA Chapter Experience team (partnered with ISACA Support) is here for you for support, guidance, and camaraderie.

Thank you!

Your role as a chapter leader is a very important one. You are the leader of this local group of ISACA members and a representative within the global ISACA community. Your work throughout your term and dedication to the chapter and ISACA is greatly appreciated. Thank you for all you do for ISACA!

Welcome to your position with the chapter!

Chapter Compliance

Access to Reports in Chapter Leader Portal

Chapter Elections

ISACA Chapter Compliance

ISACA's Chapter Affiliation Agreement (CAA) and addendum, if applicable, is the basis of the chapter compliance framework. The CAA and addendum, if applicable, formalizes the existing relationship between ISACA and its chapters, and provides numerous benefits to the chapters, ISACA, and its members, including clarifying and documenting the benefits and obligations of the chapters and ISACA, the independent legal status of chapters, and the legal protections and remedies available to the chapters and ISACA.

You can find chapter compliance information in the Chapter Leader Portal.

ISACA Chapter Compliance Requirements:

1. Conduct at least 4 (four) chapter board meetings annually.
2. Conduct or co-host at least four (4) educational events annually.
3. On at least an annual basis, provide or make available reports of all activities, revenue, and expenditures to chapter members.
4. Review chapter's organizational documents and bylaws at least annually and ensure they are consistent in all material respects with ISACA's Articles of Incorporation and ISACA's bylaws.
5. Operate as a legal entity under the applicable law in the chapter's territory.
6. Hold elections in accordance with the chapter bylaws for board members and officers of the chapter. Elections must occur at least every two (2) years. Submit updated board/leader rosters to ISACA.
7. Provide all chapter event information to ISACA via ISACA's Engage website, as set forth in ISACA's Policies and Procedures or otherwise reasonably requested by ISACA.
8. Carry adequate insurance coverage to insure the risk associated with the chapter's activities.
9. Conduct an annual external audit OR verification/review of chapter's finances by a qualified, independent financial expert—which must comply with the requirements set forth in ISACA's Policies and Procedures, and with applicable law—and provide the results of such to ISACA.
10. Maintain a bank account with a local credit institution in the name of chapter that will be used to deposit all funds received from ISACA.
11. Maintain proper usage of the ISACA chapter logo supplied by ISACA, which may not be revised or altered in any way and must be displayed in the same form as produced by ISACA.
12. Sign and submit the Chapter Affiliation Agreement and addendum (if applicable).
13. Establish and follow written guidelines to ensure compliance with the data security and privacy obligations of its jurisdiction, including creating internal and external privacy policies, which policies shall comply with applicable Data Protection Legislation, rules, and regulations. Chapter must provide those written guidelines and policies to ISACA upon request.
14. All chapter board members must sign Willingness to Serve Agreements and Conflict of Interest Statements.

Chapter Compliance Verification:

All chapters must annually submit the online compliance checklist to ISACA within 30 days after their Annual General Meeting (AGM). Within the form, chapters must acknowledge that all above requirements have been met. ISACA's Chapter Experience Team will review the forms and follow up directly with any chapters as needed.

ISACA Chapter Elections

DISCLAIMER: Please review your chapter bylaws to ensure you are following the appropriate processes and procedures for your chapter elections.

Chapter Officers

- The chapter officers are specified in the Chapter Officers Article of the chapter bylaws. (Article V, Section 1 of the template)
- The officers are elected for a term as designated in the chapter bylaws.
- The following officers are NOT elected:
  - Immediate Past President – After completing the term of president, that individual automatically becomes the immediate past president. This happens only if the Officers article of your chapter bylaws specifies that an officer of the chapter is the immediate past president. If this person resigns from the board, the position remains vacant.
  - President-Elect – If the chapter bylaws indicate a president-elect, then the next president is not elected. Instead, when the current president's term is over, the president-elect automatically assumes the role of president, with no need for an election.
- Ideally, the term of office should be two years. The chapter should determine if they want their entire board elected at one time or if half is elected in even-numbered years and the other half is elected in odd-numbered years (referred to as "staggered terms"). If your chapter chooses staggered terms, the chapter bylaws should indicate which offices are filled in even-numbered years and which are filled in odd-numbered years.

Chapter Candidate Nominations

- The chapter must select from two methods of chapter nominations: Nominating Committee or Nominations from the Floor. No matter which method is selected, all candidates nominated must meet the qualifications for office as per the chapter bylaws.
  - Nominating Committee
    - The Nominating Committee is elected by the chapter membership or by the chapter board of directors, excluding the current president.
    - It is usually a small committee of three to five (3-5) members who solicit candidates for each of the offices to be elected that year.
    - At the time designated in the chapter bylaws, the Nominating Committee communicates to the membership the candidates for the offices. The committee may select one or more candidates for each office to be filled—that is determined by the chapter bylaws and the committee. The Nominating Committee may, according to chapter custom, announce the candidates at an official chapter meeting, or communicate the announcement of the candidates via electronic means (email, website, etc.). This announcement should be done early enough that the members who do not agree with the candidates nominated can organize to nominate a candidate "from the floor" either at a meeting or electronically.
    - After the nominations by the Nominating Committee and before the elections, the Nominating Committee Chair calls for nominations from the floor for each office to be filled.
  - Nominations from the Floor
    - Some chapters choose to not use a Nominating Committee. In such situations, nominations are made from the floor at a chapter meeting. The Nominations Committee chair calls for nominations from the floor for each office to be filled.

Chapter Elections

- Chapter elections are typically held at a chapter meeting, which is usually the annual general meeting [AGM]). All members are notified, in accordance with the chapter bylaws, of when the election will take place.
- Ballots are prepared in advance of the meeting with the title of each office to be filled, the name of each candidate, and blanks for members to write in other names, should they choose.
- The Tellers Committee (usually appointed by the president, with members who are known for objectivity and ability to maintain confidentiality/secrecy of ballots) collects the ballots, counts the ballots, records the numbers, and then reports the election results.
- Newly elected officers take office per the chapter bylaws, usually at the close of the AGM at which they were elected.
- Electronic elections: Some chapters choose to hold their election electronically, instead of at a physical meeting. This method and the process must be noted in the chapter bylaws, and the secrecy of the ballots must always be maintained.

Table of Rules for Counting Election Ballots

The following is provided as a guide to assist you.

From: Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised, 11 Ed., Tinted page 49

TYPE OF BALLOT	CREDITED TO CANDIDATE(S)	COUNTED TOWARD # OF VOTES CAST
Ballots that Indicate Preference, Cast by Member
—if meaning of ballot is clear, and ballot indicates eligible candidate	Yes	Yes
—if ballot indicates ineligible candidate	No	Yes
—if meaning of ballot is unclear, but cannot affect result	No
—if meaning of ballot is unclear, and may affect result	Submit to assembly for decision	Yes
—two or more filled-out ballots, folded together	No	Yes, but counted as one vote
—one filled-out ballot, folded together with one or more blank ballots	Yes	Yes
Blank Ballots, Ballots That Indicate No Preference	No	No
Ballots Cast by Nonmember	No	No[1]
Ballots for Multiple Positions on a Board or Committee
—with votes for full number of positions to fill	Yes	Yes (one vote)[2]
—with votes for less than full number	Yes	Yes (one vote)[2]
—with votes for too many candidates	No	Yes (one vote)[2]

1. If there is evidence that any ballots were cast by persons not entitled to vote but those ballots cannot be identified, and if there is any possibility that such ballots might affect the result, the entire ballot vote is null and void, and a new ballot vote must be taken.

2. When votes are cast in one section of the ballot for multiple positions on a board or committee, every ballot with a vote in that section for one or more candidates is counted as one vote cast.
